Using the Techniques of the Great Masters of Art

To Create Better Photographic Images

We are going to take visual cues and techniques from the great masters of the past and apply them to our images. You will see when we study the paintings, why they stood the test of time. Why they captivate viewers. It was the artist's talent to use color, to create the hook that draws the viewer, to elicit emotion, to create mood, and be a master of using light. And if light in the image is lacking that visual punch, we enhance it as they might have so long ago when putting brush to canvas.
